T.v Henry Loadesk? That different?

Nixon Aide

New Post Likely For Connally

Washington

President Nixon is expected to announce today that former Texas Governor John B. Connally will join the White House as a special consultant in both foreign and domestic affairs.

Connally, who last week switched from the Democratic to the Republican party, will not get a government salary but will spend full time in the new job, according to reliable sources.

In addition, Mr. Nixon is expected to announce at a Cabinet meeting today a new secretary of Diens to replace Elliot L. Richardson, the attorney general-designate.

Neither of two publicly mentioned candidates for the Pentagon post, David Packard and Kenneth Rush, both of whom have served as deputy secretary of defense, will get the job, sources said. But the name of the new secretary could be announced [illegible] were contemplated, the war [illegible] including [illegible] to be Secretary of State and bringing the present secretary of state, William P. Rogers, into the White House as Mr. Nixon's staff. Rogers is a long-time friend of the President.

White House lobbyists have told Republican Congressmen that in addition to the Kissinger and Rogers moves, the President considered calling Secretary of the Treasury George P. Shultz back to a White House staff post.

Kissinger may become uneasy in a White House that includes a Connally with a mandate for activism and with presidential ambitions.

Kissinger is understood to have had difficulty working with the Texan who, as Mr. Nixon's Treasury Secretary made forays into international diplomacy [illegible] world economic [illegible]

[illegible] foreign policy fields [illegible] to the [illegible] formation of security [illegible]